Important from Spain—Bishops must take an oath to support the new Constitution—Republicans active—"Death before acceptance of Monarchy"—London Times on the Cuban Question—French Emperor and Empress attend the Races—Challenge for an Ocean Race Large Shipments of Specie for the United States—Revolt in Barcelona Suppressed.

SPAIN.

MADRID, September 25.—The government intends to compel the Bishops to take the oath of adherence to the new constitution. It is officially announced that a reduction of 5 per cent. is to be made in the salaries of all the colonial officers.

Minister Sickles had a long interview with the Spanish Minister of State, Silvolie.

To-day, intelligence was received of the assassination of the President of the Republican Club of Taragona.

A Republican club in the city has been closed by the government on account of resolutions adopted declaring the members would make armed resistance to monarchy.

Republican meetings are becoming general in the principal cities. At Saragossa Senor Cartelar addressed an audience of 20,000 persons, urging death before acceptance of a monarchy.

At Barcelona an attempt was made to disarm some of the volunteers who protested against the arrest of Gen. Perriad. This exasperated the volunteers and caused a slight insurrection. Barricades were thrown up, and a conflict took place in the streets between the Government troops and volunteers. The fight was a short one. The volunteers were beaten, and seventy were taken prisoners. Among the latter are two deputies to the Cortes. The troops now hold all parts of the city, and it is reported that the revolt has been completely suppressed.

Gen. Pierrad was arrested on Friday and taken to Tarragona.

LONDON, September 25.—The Times this morning in a leader on the Cuban question, says: He must be a clever man who can determine the intentions of the United States with respect to Cuba. There are two parties in the States; one favors non-intervention and the other approves Minister Sickles' course, and, finally, there is President Grant, who vibrates between the two. But there cannot be two opinions in regard to the blunder which Gen. Sickles has made. The prospect of the sale or loss of Cuba has caused a general and violent commotion in Madrid. The Spanish Government is bound to be extremely careful not to wound the national susceptibilities. There is no indication as to the readiness of the Spanish to fight against any odds when honor is at stake. The only question is whether they are in a condition to fight at all, if the possession of Cuba is made a point of honor. Justice will help Spain better than force. Spain must consider whether she has a valid cause in the Antilles. However anxious Europe may be to recognize the validity of Spanish rights, she will have to inquire what use has been made of them. Europe, not long ago, shrunk in America from what she deemed a just and generous cause. Austria and France may feel a desire to regain the prestige they lost in Mexico; but they must refute the assertions from America that the war in Cuba is carried on in a manner contrary to the principles of humanity. They must incur no risks of complicity in deeds of bloodshed. Nor must they bear out the pretensions of Spain in refusing the rights and reasonable demands of her colonies. Principles of righteousness must prevail over political interests and expediency. The sympathy of the world will be with Spain in proportion as her treatment of her colonies is just.

Monument to General McPherson—Railroad Accident—Senator Sherman on the Stump—Exhibitions.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, September 25.—Generals Sheridan, Hazen, Buckland, Leggett and Hickenlooper, in connection with Gen. McPherson's brother, spent yesterday and to day examining plans for the McPherson Monument. Sixty-two models and drawings were presented. Two premiums had been offered for the best and second best plans. The second premium was awarded to Lewis Valk, of Chicago, and the first to T. D. Jones, of Cincinnati. The plan of the latter was adopted. It is a bronze equestrian statue in pedestal, Quincy and Scotch granite. The total height from the base of the pedestal to the top of the hat is twenty feet six inches, of which the pedestal is nine feet. The cost will be $20,000, of which $15,000 is now in the Treasury. The casting will be done in the United States.

The express train from Baltimore due here at four o'clock this morning was delayed five hours at Chillicothe, on the Marietta road, by the locomotive of the freight running into the rear of another freight at that place, and obstructing the track. The engineer, Mr. West, on the locomotive, was dangerously injured. The locomotive and freight cars were considerably damaged.

About five hundred people responded to the call for a meeting of those favoring the expulsion of the Bible from common schools. The meeting was disorderly, resolutions favoring the expulsion of the Bible were presented, and the vote was so near a tie that the chairman could not decide. A division was called for, still the chairman could not decide, and the resolutions went by default. The prospect that the Board of Education, to-morrow night, will prohibit the reading of the Bible in the schools, amounts to almost a certainty.

The Union Cricket Club started to Indianapolis to-night to play to-morrow.

THE ARCTIC REGION.

Return of Dr. Hall—Interesting Relics Supposed to Have Belonged to Sir John Franklin's Expedition.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NORWICH, CONN., September 26.—The whaling schooner Cornelia, Capt. Baker, has arrived at New London from Cumberland Inlet. She brings as passengers three men belonging to Dr. C. F. Hall's expedition in search of Sir John Franklin.

Dr. Hall is a passenger on board the ship Ansel Gibbs, for New Bedford. He has a number of articles belonging to Sir John Franklin, including some spoons and a chronometer box.

He was also successful in finding skeletons of many of his men and the remains of several of their boats. The skeletons and other relics were found at King William's Land.

The Cornelia brought an anchor found at the extreme North, marked E. S., 1776, which is supposed to have belonged to the first explorers.

Dr. Hall found a native who claims to know all about the party. He says the ship was stove, and the crew took to their boats and went ashore, where their provisions were exhausted and they died from starvation.

Ice and snow prevented Dr. Hall from making full explorations. He will return next summer and still further prosecute the search.

Ansel Gibbs will arrive at New Bedford in a day or two.

Arrival of Dr. Hall after an Absence of Five Years—He Brings with Him Five Esquimaux and Many Interesting Mementos of the Ill-fated Franklin Expedition—He will soon Publish the Result of his Explorations and Return in the Spring to Push his Journeyings to the North Pole.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., September 26.—Dr. C. F. Hall, the distinguished Arctic explorer, with Ebierburg and Tookoolita, two Esquimaux, and three daughters, arrived at this port to-day in the ship Ansel Gibbs, from Repulse Bay, August 22d.

Dr. Hall brings as among the results of his five years' residence in the Arctic regions, most interesting intelligence in regard to the death of Sir John Franklin, and his companions, and conclusive proof that none of them ever reached Montreal Island. He saw natives who were the last to look upon Crozier and his party.

The Doctor also brings with him the remains of a young man who belonged to that ill-fated band of explorers, and also various relics of the explorations.

He has prepared a report, addressed to his friend Henry Grinnell, of New York, which will soon be given to the public, through the press.

Dr. Hall is by no means tired of exploration, and purposes next spring to start anew, and push his journeying to the North pole. He regards his experience of the last ten years as invaluable to him as preparation, and aid in the future.

In the report alluded to, he says: "Wherever I found that Sir John Franklin's companions had died I erected a monument, fired salutes and waved the star spangled banner over them, in memory of the discoverers of the North-West passage.

Counterfeiters Arrested and Committed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BINGHAMPTON, September 25—H. Malter alias Oscar A. Bush, arrested in this city for aiding and assisting to sell counterfeit money, was yesterday brought before United States Commissioner Hall. He was held to bail in $5,000 to appear for trial at the October term of the United States Circuit Court at Albany, and in default was committed.

A special cable dispatch dated London, September 25th states that the advices from Spain are interesting. Information coming from most reliable sources in Madrid has been received in refutation of the rumors which have been circulated to the effect that the United States Government has communicated with Minister Sickles, directing him to withdraw his note on the subject of a Cuban, sale or transfer, if the terms of the missive were not acceptable to the Spaniards. What Mr. Sickles did convey to Serrano and to the other Ministers of Spain, really amounted to this, that the Government of the United States may withdraw the offer of a friendly mediation on the part of the American people between Spain and the Cuban revolutionists leaving the responsibility of the consequences, as well as the consequences which may ensue, on Spain herself.

NEW YORK, September 26, 1869.

The steamships City of New York and City of Paris, from Liverpool, have arrived.

The First National Bank of Washington, N. J., was entered by burglars on Friday night, and yesterday the bank officers could not get into their vault, and were not able to ascertain the amount of the loss. It is said, however, the amount of funds on hand was small, that the standing of the bank will not be seriously effected.

Gunboat No. 1 of the Spanish Musquito fleet, of thirty small boats, had a trial trip up North River yesterday afternoon. She ascended the river to West Point, her engines working well, and her success for war purposes being complete.

A south-east rain storm, accompanied by high winds, commenced here about 4 o'clock this morning and has continued all day. The rain this evening has been quite heavy and there is no prospect of its clearing off.

Asper, of Missouri, and Judge Loughudge, of Iowa, will leave Chicago Wednesday the 29th inst., accompanied by their ladies for California. Colonel N. G. Ordway, Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives, and family, will leave Washington on Monday to join the party at Chicago. This is entirely a pleasure trip taken by the parties for the purpose of visiting the Pacific coast, and not a Committee of Congress, although several of the excursionists are members of that body.

The Gold Exchange Bank has declared its intention of settling all claims on last Friday's transactions at ten o'clock to-morrow. In making up its statements, the bank to-day threw out of consideration the parties who had failed to effect their clearances, and those who fail to do so by half-past ten to-morrow morning will not in future be allowed to have any transactions with the bank. It is believed that one well-known house has failed by the operations of last Friday.

Among the passengers by the steamship City of Paris, from Liverpool, were F. O. Lyman, A. Burnham, G. Bass, S. W. Rice and G. Fish, of the Harvard crew.

CUBA.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, Sept. 24.—The Havana press, reviewing the situation, concludes that a majority of the Cubans are loyal. They cite in proof the solicitude of the Cuban Junta in New York to enlist American filibusters to fight the battles of the rebellion. The rebel officers here being unable to obtain recruits among the natives, the Spanish element in the Island is unanimously of the opinion that the Washington Government has no right to interfere in their affairs.

The officers of the Volunteer to-day had an interview with the Captain General and stated that they, and the men under them, insisted on taking the field for active service. The Captain General replied that he did not need their services.

CHICAGO.

Heavy Rain Storms—Vast Amount of Grain and Hay Destroyed—Democratic Nominations—Fight with Indians—A Woman Attempts to Shoot her Brother-in-law.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, September 26.—A despatch from St. Paul says a deluge of water fell on Thursday and Friday nights, and the Mississippi river is again on the rise. All the bottom lands of the Minessota river are overflown, and the hay crop in that region, as well as on the large prairies, is ruined. Farmers from different sections claim that fully one-half of the grain crop, not threshed and harvested at the time of the previous storm, is ruined. Oliver Dalrymple, the largest wheat grower in the State, estimates the loss on his crop at 20,000 bushels. Good judges say the damage to the wheat alone by the late great storms throughout the State cannot be less than five million bushels, while two-thirds of the hay crop is worthless. The Anokah river has risen rapidly, carrying away the remaining logs belonging to Dean & Co., of Minneapolis.

The following are the nominations complete, made by the Minnosota Democratic State Convention: Govenor, George L. Otes, of Ramsey county; Lieutenant Governor, J. A. Wisewell, of Blue East county; Secretary of State, T. G. Pladeland, of Fillmore county, Auditor General, Louis A. Evans, of Stearnes county; Attorney General, Seagrove Smith, Dakotah county; State Treasurer, Casper Babrich, of Brown county; Chief Justice, Chas. E Hrudran, of Hennepin county; Clerk of the Supreme Court, W. T. Branewell, of McLeod county.

A special from Omaha says that reports received at headquarters from the Pawnee Reservation represent that quiet is restored. The Sioux, after a lively skirmish with the Pawnees, fled before the arrival of the cavalry, who pursued them nearly thirty miles. One Pawnee was killed and several wounded. The Pawnees claim to have killed and wounded have a dozen Sioux.

Mrs. Mary C. Smith, in connection with her husband, keeping a second hand store at 243 Madison street, yesterday morning went to the apartments of her brother-in-law, Wm. G. Casper, in Morrison Block, South Clark street, a dealer in pianos, and deliberately discharged three barrels of a seven shooter at him, and would have continued the same amusement until the whole seven shots had been expended had she not been forcibly prevented by the inmates of the building. One ball only took effect, inflicting a serious but it is believed, not a dangerous wound. Family troubles are at the bottom of the tragedy.

ST. LOUIS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Mistake Corrected—New Telegraph Rates—Visitors to the Fair—Overcoats in Demand—Heavy Damages.

ST. LOUIS, September 25.—The paragraph telegraphed a day or two ago, regarding the sale of the Mississippi Valley Telegraph lines, contained one or two errors. The amount of paper protested was only thirty thousand dollars instead of one hundred and fifty thousand, and the sale was made to the Pacific and Atlantic, instead of Atlantic and Pacific Company. The western Union Telegraph Company will put a new tariff system into effect on October first, based on air lines distances, which will equalize and greately reduce rates between all points, especially in the South and Southwest, and do away with any apparent discrimination against small places.

A large party of ladies and gentlemen of Batesville, Arkansas, have chartered a steamboat for the purpose of visiting the great fair to be held here during the first week of October.

The weather changed suddenly, last week, and to-day light overcoats have been required for comfort.

Mrs. Elvina C. Huffman obtained twelve thousand dollars damages from the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad Company at Macon, Missouri, on Thursday, for injuries received about three years ago.

ST. LOUIS, September 26.—John T. Sayers was brought here Friday from Wellsville, Missouri, by the Marshall of this city, charged with being in complicity with two confederates in passing a large amount of counterfeit greenbacks, and drawing money on raised checks upon banks in Austin, Texas. Sixteen thousand dollars was realized in this way. Sayers and his confederates, one of whom, Pepper by name, was arrested and turned State's evidence. About thirty thousand dollars in counterfeit notes and a large quantity of raised drafts were found on the men. Sayers was taken to Texas yesterday in charge of B. M. Orden, who came here with a requisition from the Governor of Texas for the prisoner.

THE TORPEDO PATENT CASE.

Decision in the United States Circuit Court by Judge Grier.

The case of E. A. L. Roberts vs. the Reed Torpedo Company et al., involving the right to use torpedoes, in oil wells, was decided in the U. S. Circuit Court, at Philadelphia, on Wednesday of last week. The case first came up in the Western District, and a preliminary injunction was granted by Judge McCandless, but counsel agreed to argue it in the Eastern District, for the accommodation of Judge Grier.

The Philadelphia Post, in a statement of the case, says:

Within the last few years the production in oil wells has been greatly increased by lowering down into them large iron flasks containing six to ten pounds of gun powder or nitro-glycerine, and then exploding the mass by means of a percussion cap on the top of the flask, on to which cap a weight was dropped from the top of the well. It was established by proofs in the case that most remarkable results had been produced in the oil region by the introduction of the torpedo by Mr. E. A. L. Roberts, the plaintiff. Thus in the Eureka well, which was producing only three barrels a day, a Roberts' torpedo was exploded, and its production increased to 180 barrels a day; Hyner well was increased from 3 to 30 barrels per day; Keystone well from 5 to 175 barrels per day; Neill well from 3 to 80 barrels per day; Tarr Homestead well was increased 65 barrels per day; Keystone well from 15 to 200 barrels per day.

These were only a few out of numerous cases where Roberts had succeeded. The annual production of oil due to the use of the torpedo was admitted by defendants in their argument to already have reached several millions of dollars.

After Roberts had succeeded in introducing his invention, Mr. Reed, of Titusville, united with a former agent of Roberts, Mr. Marston, and set up a claim as a rival inventor to Roberts. They organized the "Reed Torpedo Company," the object of which was to make and sell to oil men torpedoes at a low rate, and to defeat Roberts's patent. The defendants based their claim upon certain trials made by Reed of torpedoes in 1863. The defendants did not deny that they were infringing the Roberts patent, but insisted that it was void by reason of what Reed had done. The plaintiff contended that Reed was merely an unsuccessful experimenter, who had abandoned his torpedo as worthless before Roberts's patent was issued.

The oil men united with defendants to defeat the patent, and raised a large fund. They were represented at the argument by Charles M. Keller, of New York, Hon. S. A. Purviance and B. F. Lucas, of Pittsburgh. Roberts, the patentee, was represented by Bakewell and & Christy, of Pittsburgh, and George Harding, of Philadelphia.

Judge Grier on Wednesday delivered the following opinion, deciding in favor of the validity of plaintiff's patent and granting a perpetual injunction:

As I write with difficulty I can only state the conclusions to which my mind has come after a careful examination of this case.

The complainant has exhibited a patent dated 25th April, 1865. This is prima facie evidence of a good title, and puts on the respondents the burthen of proof that the patent is void or worthless.

I need not repeat my remarks in the case of Geodyear vs. Day (2 Wall, C. C. Rep. 299), but now adopt them as affording a rule of decision which applies clearly to the present case.

As the infringement of the patent is admitted, the only question will be as to the validity of complainant's patent of April 25, 1865.

"It was after speculation had been reduced to practice," and after repeated experiments, that the complainant succeeded in overcoming the prejudice and ignorance of the people on the subject, and persuading the public that his invention was useful; after he had established its great utility and value, and "when his genius and patient perseverance, in spite of sneers and scoffs," were completely successful, that Reed, who had before made experiments on the same subject, and was wholly unsuccessful, imagined that he had the best right to the invention, and after purchasing one or more of complainant's torpedoes, he applied, on the 1st of November, 1867, for a patent for substantially the same combination of devices or machines contained in complainant's patent. On the 15th of the same month the respondents formed themselves into a company or corporation called "The Reed Torpedo Company," for the purpose of pirating the complainant's invention and supporting the expense of litigation, and thus defraud him of its fruits. They have persevered even after the preliminary injunction very properly granted by the District Judge.

Let a decree be entered for complainant for a perpetual injunction, and a Master appointed to take an account according to the prayer of the bill.

R. C. GRIER, Circuit Judge.

Professor M. F. Eaton.

We had the pleasure of a call from this veteran educator, so long and successfully engaged as a teacher in this city, and so well known, especially as Professor of Elocution in the University. Prof. Eaton has resided for some time in Philadelphia, where he has devoted himself to the conducting of an institution for the treatment of stammering and other vocal impediments. His marked success in this most laudable enterprise is attested by eminent professional gentlemen both of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. We would suggest to stammerers hereabouts that some effort should be made to induce Prof. Eaton to spend a season at Pittsburgh for their benefit. No one thus afflicted but would most gladly be relieved, as by proper training they can certainly be relieved of a most painful and unpleasant infirmity. We commend the subject to their serious consideration.

In trance and dream of old, God's prophet saw
The casting down of thrones. Thou, watching lone
The hot Sardinian coast-line, hazy hilled,
Where, fringing round Caprera's rocky zone
With foam the slow waves gather and withdraw,
Behold'st the vision of the seer fulfilled,
And hear'st the sea winds burdened with a sound
As falling chains, one by one, unbound,
The nations lift their right hand up and swear
Their oath of freedom. From the chalk-white wall
Along the Danube and the Theiss through all
The passes of the Spanish Pyrenees,
And from the Seine's thronged banks, a murmur strange
And glad floats to thee o'er thy summer seas
On the salt wind that stirs thy whitening hair,
The song of freedom's bloodless victories!
Rejoice, O Garibaldi! Though thy sword
Failed at Rome's gates, and blood seemed vainly poured
Where in Christ's name the crowned infidel
Of France wrought murder with the arms of hell
On that sad mountain slope, whose ghostly dead
Unmindful of the gray exorcist's ban,
Walk, unappeased, the chambered Vatican.
And draw the curtains of Napoleon's bed!
God's providence is not blind, but full of eyes,
It searches all the refuges of lies;
And in His time and way the accursed things
Before whose evil feet thy battle gage
Has clashed defiance from hot youth to age,
Shall perish. All men shall be priests and kings—
One royal brotherhood, one Church, made free
By love, which is the law of liberty!

GENERAL NEWS.

MINNESOTA will run a Temperance ticket.

THE streets of Canton, Ohio, are being Nicolsoned.

A MAN has been arrested in Troy, N. Y., for stealing a hearse.

IT is women, and not their wrongs, that ought to be redressed, says a crusty old bachelor.

A GENTLEMAN was buried in New York, a few days since, at a cost of $5,000. The flowers alone cost $500.

A SPIDER as large as a mouse, and covering with its legs five inches of ground, is an Iowa production.

A WOMAN died in Worcester, Mass., a few days since, aged thirty-nine, who was the mother of nineteen children.

IT is said that Germany might as well be asked to banish lager, as Congress to pass a prohibitory liquor law for the District of Columbia.

NEARLY all the grapes about Sandusky, Ohio, and on the islands, proved a failure this year. The bad, rainy weather in the spring destroyed them.

AN oil refiner of Glasgow has offered £405,000, or $2.200,000, for the Island of Arran, on the coast of Scotland, and outbid the Marquis of Bute by £50,000.

BUFFALO has thirty city pumps, and the Council has refused to pay a bill of $68 for supplying them (the pumps) with cups, thinking it "rather steep."

AN Ohio owner of a dog, which had been ordered killed, sent to the Mayor a neat package containing the amputated paw of the beast, as evidence of his death.

COATES & Co., the English thread makers, are soon to erect a manufacturing establishment at Providence, R. I., which will employ eight hundred operatives.

THE editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal informs his readers that "Twenty-one hundred and ninety-one years ago to-day (Thursday,) our distinguished friend Demosthenes died by poison."

FIVE inmates of the New York State lunatic asylum a few days since were taken to the Tombs, in New York city, to be sent to county asylums. All of them were convicts who had gone mad in prison.

AN Alliance (Ohio) saloon-keeper undertook to open a "chebang" at the Malvern campmeeting. Result—his stock and his horse and wagon seized, a fine of $175 imposed, and himself banished from the vicinity.

FRANK AND HATTIE SAXTON are in jail at Norwalk, Ohio, for kidnapping an eight months old baby from the Huron County Infirmary—since restored—and afterward stealing a horse and buggy at Monroeville.

The Dayton (O.) Journal thinks that the coal mines of the Hanging Rock region and many of the salt works in Ohio are in a state which justifies it in expecting them to repeat the Avondale horror. The editor speaks from personal observation.

A YOUTH of twelve years, called to the police dock at St. Louis to answer a charge of assaulting a comrade with a knife, cutting him so badly in the side that he was confined to bed for a fortnight, asked for a "continuance," because of the "absence of material witnesses."

MRS. BERRYHILL, near Bellbrook, Ohio, was found dead in the cistern at her house on the 8th inst. She was a large woman, and the cistern, the opening to which is but eighteen inches square, had only two and a half feet of water. Her husband was away from home at the time.

THE Board of Supervisors of Chicago had under consideration a resolution to allow the sale of intoxicating liquors in the county prison, upon the vendor giving bond in $500 that he would not sell any but wholesome beverages, and charge no more than the ordinary price for the same, but after discussion laid it on the table.

MRS. RUTH HEMPHILL, of Henniker, N. H., died last week, aged one hundred years, three months and thirteen days. She was the first female child born in that town, and the first child baptized there. She desired her funeral to be held in the old Town House, which has only been used for town meetings for over a quarter of a century.

THE Albany Journal says the managers of the recent New York State fair would not allow daily newspapers to be sold on the grounds, whilst lager could be obtained in abundance, and adds that it had been of the opinion the managers were opposed to the dissemination of intelligence, but that this action was their first confession of it.

IN Worcester, Mass., last week, a number of school boys, from ten to fifteen years of age, tapped a cask of liquor in a freight car, and filling several bottles, drank freely themselves and treated their companions. The result was that all of them got intoxicated and caused a great commotion in the school room by their subsequent sickness.

THE farmers in the vicinity of Westford, Connecticut, complain that the dog law has so reduced the dogs in that region that they suffer much from foxes, minks, weasels and woodchucks. One man lost thirty-seven young turkeys in a short time by foxes. All complain of the loss of eggs, small chickens, and half-grown fowls and turkeys.

FUNNY DOINGS are credited to Mose Hopkins, colored, mail agent on a Southern railroad. At Holly Springs, Miss., the postmaster asked for the mail. Moses replied that he hadn't started with as much as he thought he had, and had given it all out at the depots above, but he would leave a good sized bag full for him next time. Moses resigned recently.

DR. MARY WALKER has been perambulating Cincinnati in semi-male attire. A young lady named Ida Price, seeing the costume, became so enamored of it that she "saw" the Doctor, and "went her one better," donning not only the inexpressibles, but a coat and weskit. The police, however, who had'nt interfered with the Doctor's trowsers, thought Ida was carrying the joke a little too far, and took her to the Station House. She "went up" for thirty days.

AN ENGLISHMAN sends "confidential" information to a gentleman in Columbus, Ohio, with reference to the formation of a company for the manufacture of plate glass from sand of suitable character found at the mouth of Platin creek, seven miles below St. Louis, on the Mississippi river. It is said that the sand has been tested, and proven to be unsurpassed for the purpose in Europe or America. There is now no manufactory of plate glass within the United States.

IN PICKENS county, Alabama, a few days since, James Hammond died of congestion of the heart and arteries. Ten hours before his death the pulsations of his arteries ceased, but he walked about during the time, gave directions about his affairs to his family and drank coffee an hour before he expired. A physician in attendance says that during an experience of ten years in healing all kinds of congestions in Louisiana, he never met with or read of such a remarkable case.

THE new law in relation to the inspection of boilers in Ohio went into operation August 1st. Every owner of a steam boiler is required to report to the deputy inspector of the district the location of such boiler, for inspection, within sixty days from the 1st of August in each year, under a penalty of twenty-five dollars, and in case the boiler is not ready for inspection at a time designated by the inspector, there is liability to pay the fees and expenses of inspection and five dollars additional. The law requires each boiler to have a safety-valve; also, a low water indicator, so constructed as to give an alarm, under a penalty of two hundred dollars. Several boiler owners in the northern part of the State have refused to comply with the provisions of the act, and will not permit an examination of their boilers by the deputy inspector. The matter has been referred to the Attorney General.

A WEEK or two ago a compositor working on a St. Louis newspaper endeavored to get a sum of money advanced on a note held by him against his brother. He made several unsuccessful applications, but at length lured an honest and unsuspecting printer to advance him $700 on it. Compositor No. 1 worked at the case, while his wife kept a millinery store. A morning or two since a woman who represented herself as the first and only wife of the typo, dashed into the store and threatened to prosecute him for bigamy. Typo No. 1 went to the unsuspecting printer in great distress and represented that he was under the dire necessity of going to Canada to evade the righteous arm of the law, and go he did, at least out of the city, and the printer is minus his $700. He now sees that it was all a ruse. The swindler disposed of most of his stock of millinery goods, and is understood to have left unpleasant impressions of himself amongst other parties.

STATE ITEMS.

THE Hollidaysburg jail is empty.

A GENTLEMAN of Lebanon has a cat twenty years old.

RUFUS B. PERRY has been appointed Notary Public at Warren, Warren county.

THE corner stone of the M. E. Church at Newport, Perry county, will be laid with Masonic ceremonies on Saturday, 2d proximo.

THE Presbyterian Congregation of Middle Spring, Cumberland county, have extended a call to Rev. J. W. Wightman, of Greencastle. Salary $2,000.

MRS. REBECCA LESSIG, died at Pottstown, Schuylkill county, on the 15th, after an illness of some weeks. For the space of forty days she had eaten no food of any description.

DAVID SHAFFER, eighteen years of age, residing near Loysville, Perry county, accidentally shot himself, on Friday of last week, at Metz's foot log over Sherman's creek, the contents of the gun entering his left side and proving fatal.

THE Mayor of Harrisburgh, learning of an intended raid by thieves on the freight cars of the Pennsylvania Railroad, advised the police, who "lay in wait" and succeeded in capturing two colored men, William Butler and Thomas Dorsey, in the very act of carrying off boxes which they had taken from the cars.

A PACKAGE was received at the Pottsville postoffice on Thursday, for Audenreid P. O., done up in a newspaper, postage prepaid at book rates. Its weight and peculiar appearance suggested an examination, which brought forth a six-shooter, with each barrel loaded. Of course, it went no further in that condition.

THE recent cases of hydrophobia in Philadelphia have caused the dog-takers employed by the city to be looked upon no longer as interlopers. The man Helmuth, owner of the dog that bit the little girl, McCredy, whose horrible sufferings and death we have noted, has been discharged from custody, although first committed without bail, on account of the non appearance of the prosecutor.

BY the upsetting of a hack, on Thursday last, on the road from Mahoning to Kittanning, Mr. Rearich had an arm broken and his wife also very seriously injured. Mr. James Daniels had a leg broken, Mrs. Porter, of Whitesburg, was cut in the face and otherwise hurt, and the driver, Mr. Joseph Lucas, was also considerably used up. The upset was caused by the horses taking fright and running off.

THE assignee in giving notice to holders of Crawford county bank bills to present them to him, in Meadville, on or before the 30th inst., none to be received after that date, also cautions the public against taking any from others, as bills have been abstracted from him which will be useless to the holders. The Titusville Herald says "a man who steals the bills of that bank should be sent to the insane asylum instead of the penitentiary."

THE Mauch Chunk Gazette has "A Word to Consumers of Coal." It says: "By all means lay in your winter supply of coal at once. If the collieries now idle should resume work to-morrow, and all then continue working constantly during the remainder of the Fall, the supply, up to the close of navigation, could not more than equal last year. But with the uncertain condition of affairs in the mines the supply is likely to fall considerably short."

THE following Post offices have been established:—

Spring Hope, Bedford county—H. Albaugh appointed Postmaster.

Glendale, Cambria county—John C. Gates, Postmaster.

St. Lawrence, Cambria county—M. E. Dietrich, Postmaster.

St. Bonifacius, Cambric county—B. Helfrick, Postmaster.

HENRY R. ROUSE, of South West, came to his death by the burning of his well in April, 1861, near the place at the mouth of Cherry Run which bears his name. Having no family, he devised the most of his estate to the Commissioners of Warren county, the interest thereof to be expended, one-half on the roads and one-half for the benefit of the poor of said county. The amount realized after the requisite legislation and arrangements to make the bequest available was $150,000. The fund is now invested mainly in Government securities, and yields some $11,000 per annum. The half of it thus far keeps up the expenses of maintaining the poor of said county. The road money is applied in different sections of the county toward building bridges and repairing roads, as the Commissioners may deem best.

WHAT A COOPERATIVE LAUNDRY COSTS.

The Chicago Evening Post says: Carefully made estimates of the cost of a laundry capable of washing and ironing 1,000 to 2,000 dozen per week, are, in this city, as follows:

Twelve-horse boiler and six-horse engine	$1,200
Washing machine, second size, six tubs	400
Centrifrugal wringer	300
Mangle	1,000
Shafting	100
Pulleys and belting	100
Drying room	150
Steam pipe, 1,000 feet	220
Ironing stove and sad irons	50
Horse, wagon and harness	500
Cutter	60
Drainage and sewerage	75
Boiler, tubs und wringers	100
Overseer's salary 2 months, during construction	200
Irons omitted or undercharged, and sundries	1,000
Total	$5,455

To this must be added the rent of a building for the laundry, another for a stable, and possibly a third for a boarding house, the cost of which will depend upon size, locality, etc. Any common structure of 25x60 feet will be good enough and large enough for the laundry, and as but one horse is required, a single stall and a shed for the wagon will be cheaply gotten. The rent, taxes, interest, insurance, etc., will be paid from current receipts, hence will form no part of the first outlay. The monthly cost of running such a laundry would be, for labor and material, exclusive of rent.

Laundress, at $45 per month	$ 45
Six girls, at $30 per month	180
Engineer, $60 per month	60
Driver, $50 per month	50
Superintendent, $100 per month	100
Horse-keep, $12 per month	12
Starch, blueing and soap, $36 per month	36
Fuel, $50 per month	50
Boy, $20 per month	20
Stationery, advertising, etc., $10 per month	10
Sundries, incidentals, etc	100
Total per month	$663

Now if 200 families, of five persons each, contributed to the support of the laundry, and if the washing averaged six dozen to the family, the aggregate would be 1,200 dozen weekly, at a cost, exclusive of rent-charge, of thirteen and five-eighths cents per dozen. Surely little enough to impel all householders who are in a condition to live in common decency, to test the correctness of these figures.

Medical Hints.

1. If a man faints, place him flat on his back and let him alone.

2. If any poison is swallowed, drink instantly half a glass of cool water, with a heaping teaspoonful each of common salt and ground mustard stirred into it; this vomits as soon as it reaches the stomach; but for fear some of the poison might remain, swallow the whites of one or two raw eggs, or drink a cup of strong coffee, these two being antidotes for a greater number of poisons than any dozen other articles known, with the advantage of their being always at hand, if not, a pint of sweet oil, or lamp oil, or "drippings," or melted butter or lard, are good substitutes, especially if they vomit quickly.

3. The best thing to stop the bleeding of a moderate cut instantly, is to cover it well with cobweb, flour and salt, half and half.

4. If the blood comes from a wound by jets or spurts, be spry, or the man may die in a few minutes, because the artery is severed; tie a handkerchief closely around near the part between the wound and the heart; put a stick between the handkerchief and the skin, and twist it around until the blood ceases to flow; keep it there until the doctor comes; if in a position where the handkerchief cannot be used, press the thumb on a spot near the wound, between the wound and the heart; increase the pressure until the bleeding ceases, but do not lessen the pressure for an instant before the physician arrives, so as to glue up the wound by coagulation or cooling of the hardening blood.

5. If your clothing takes fire, slide the hands down the dress, keeping them as close to the body as possible, at the same time sinking to the floor by bending the knees; this has a smothering effect upon the flames; if not extinguished or great headway gotten, lie down on the floor and roll over; or better, envelope yourself in a carpet, rug, bedcloth, or any garment you can get hold of, always preferring woolen.

6. If the body is tired, rest; if the brain is tired, sleep.

7. If the bowels are loose, lay down in a warm bed, remain there, and eat nothing until well.

8. If the action of the bowels does not occur at the usual hour, eat not an atom until they do act, at least for thirty-six hours; meanwhile drink largely of cold water or hot teas, and exercise in the open air to the extent of a gentle perspiration, and keep this up until things are righted, this suggestion, if practiced, would save myriads of lives every year, both in the city and country.

9. The three best medicines in the world are warmth, abstinence and repose. —Hall's Journal of Health,

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision, Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, Sept. 25 1869.

Business generally has been comparatively dull this week, but the prospects for an improvement are encouraging. There is an improved demand for some kinds of Grain, and with a temporary scarcity, Oats have advanced and Rye and Barley are both a little stronger. Flour is quiet and dull, the demand being restricted almost entirely to supplying immediate wants of the local trade. Provisions firm with a fair business in the aggregate and prices are strong and fully sustained. Sugars and Coffees were very much excited in sympathy with the gold panic; but as the latter is down again, it is likely that the former will follow suit. Fruits of all kinds very abundant and very dull.

APPLES—The market is completely glutted, and holders are very anxious to sell; may be quoted at $1@2 per bbl.

Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and

MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. The Belle from Parkersburg, and Julia from Zanesville are due.

The Sallie departed for Cincinnati on Saturday evening with all the freight she could take on the water, probably 130 tons. Pilots, Nick and James Whitten.

The new steamer, Batesville, departed for Memphis, and had all she could take on the water. Pilots, Barney Given and Andy Bunting.

The Maggie Hays is announced for St. Louis, and the Bellevernon for New Orleans.

—Captain George Houghton is building a steamer at Sauk Rapids, to run above St. Anthony Falls. She is 144 feet long and 24 feet beam.

—The Alabama river is getting so low that navigation is extremely difficult, and the packets are often delayed far beyond their regular time of arrival.

—Stuart & Co., builders, at Madison, have contracted to build a steamboat 235 feet long, for the North-western Union Packet Company. The work on it has commenced.

—The Ida Rees arrived at Omaha day before yesterday (22d) from the Upper Forks, with a broken shaft, and was compelled to transfer her freight to the Andrew Ackley and Peninah.

—John H. Carter, editor and publisher of the River Times, at St. Louis, was formerly a resident of Marietta, Ohio. His paper recently contained a sketch of Capt. Owen Franks, of Marietta.

—A dispatch from Gallapolis to the Cincinnati Gazette, under date of Friday, says: St. Mary's aground on Buffington. Her passengers say she lies across the bar, which is washing, and her bow and stern are settling. Fears are entertained of her breaking, —A Memphis dispatch under date of Thursday says: The steamer Guidon, hence for Little Rock, struck a snag at Red Fork, Arkansas river, Tuesday, and sunk in four feet of water. She had a valuable cargo on board, which will be lost, but the boat will be raised. No further particulars.

—A late Wheeling exchange says: We hear that the Julia No. 2 and the New State would go into the Parkersburgh trade in a day or two, as the water was getting too low for the large boats.....Captain Dawson, of the Victor No 2, tells us that he is having a new cabin put on his boat, and that she will resume her place in the Big Sandy trade when the rivers are navigable again.

—A St. Louis telegram, under date of Thursday, says: G. G. Prather, of this city, has sold his interest, which was the controling one, in the steamer, Dan Able to Captain Harrison, of New Orleans, which makes him the entire owner of the boat. Captain J. W. GOLD closed in New York Saturday at 135.

IN ADDITION to the two Atlantic lines of telegraphic cable already in operation, a third or German line is now under preparation, and a fourth, from Ireland to Nova Scotia, is projected.

THE prominent feature of the book-trade sale of New York last week, was the unusually large demand for the works of Byron. Over ten thousand copies were disposed of at advanced prices.

THE Pennsylvania State Fair commences at Harrisburg to-morrow, enteries closing this evening. It is predicted that this will be the finest exhibition of the kind ever witnessed in the State.

THE prospect for the immediate construction for the new line of railway from the Pan Handle, opposite Steubenville, to Wellsburg, gives great satisfaction to the citizens along that portion of the left bank of the Ohio.

IT is said that one of the nine new Circuit Judgships is to be given to Secretary Cox, of the Interior Department, in December. It is quite likely that at least three changes will be made in the Cabinet by the opening of the new year.

SOON after the meeting of the Senate, in December, the President will send in his nominations for the new circuit judgships created under the Judiciary Act of last winter, and also for the vacancy on the Supreme Bench left by the decease of Justice Wayne.

THE destiny of the Grand Duchy of Baden, is to be consolidated into an united Germany. If the Prussian policy shall be directed to its absorption, no protests of France will avail to resist the movement, which will forever shut out France from the navigation of the Rhine.

IN urging the abrogation of duties on foreign coal the New York journals overlook two essentials facts—1. That one tun of anthracite is worth for most purposes at least as much as two tuns of bituminous; 2. That the city of New York supplies the anthracite counties of Pennsylvania with most of the general merchandize they buy.

A FRENCH religious journal remarks of the famous letter of Father Hyacinthe that "no such language has been heard in the French Church since the middle ages." La Patrie declares tht a the independent language and courageous tone of his sermons attracted much attention, and have drawn on the preacher the condemnation of the Papacy and of his superiors.

GOSSIP, at Richmond, affirms that the President favors an election of U. S. Senators by the provisional Legislature which meets next month. The report is not worthy of belief. Gen. GRANT subscribes to the opinion of the Attorney General that no Legislative action should be taken, in advance of the Congressional approval, beyond the plain authorizations of the Reconstruction Acts.

MORE than one BAYARD, without fear and without reproach, gave his life to his country upon the battle-field of the rebellion. But heroes like MCPHERSON live forever in the memory of a grateful people, whether with or without such visible records, of monumental stone and bronze, as that which will ere long mark the spot, at Clyde, O., where sleeps the dust of one of the bravest and most spotless of the Union dead.

THERE are such general complaints of the bare faced frauds revealed in the returns of wealthy citizens for the income tax, that the Department has under consideration the propriety of ordering an entire new re-assessment. We have not heard how this proposition strikes the tax-dodging millionaire who heads the opposition ticket, but probably he regards it as a proof of that Radical oppression which he so fervently hates. He perhaps thinks $8,95, contributed to the "unexpended balance" in our State Treasury, quite enough of taxation for his limited means.

SO MANY rich men have contrived, like Mr. PACKER, to avoid the payment of taxes on their incomes, that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is disposed to order a complete reassessment. He ought not to hesitate. A careful scrutiny into the returns of this class of men will show how many of them are worthy either of public position or of private confidence. Of course, there are many upright and otherwise excellent men among them; but there are also some of the other sort. Let a sifting be made, so that the honest may be distinguished from the dishonest.

LAST MONDAY the Select Council of this city voted to purchase the COLEMAN property, situated seven or eight miles up the Allegheny river, and to locate thereon a new reservoir with a view to affording a full supply of suitable water. To day this proposition will come up in the Common Council, and we earnestly hope and expect that its decision will accord with that already reached in the other body. All investigations heretofore made have concurred in the conclusion that the Allegheny is the true source of our water supply, and the almost unanimous vote for the COLEMAN site in the Select Council indicates that it is the most available spot, and is offered at a reasonable price.

THE American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions will hold a convocation in the Third Presbyterian church of this city, commencing on Tuesday of next week, October 5th. This Board is one of the most conspicuous religious corporations in the country—made so by the personal and social eminence of the individuals of which it is composed, but more especially by the vastness and grandeur of the enterprise in which it is engaged. How many delegates will be present, cannot be definitely determined in advance. The estimated number varies from twelve to twenty-six hundred. In the list of those who will certainly attend are the names of many individuals widely known, not only in this country, but in Europe, for scholarship, for professional attainments and capacity in the higher walks of business activity. It will be, under whatever aspect it may be viewed, a notable assemblage.

THE Leader, in discussing the edict recently issued from the Catholic Cathedral of this city commanding all adherents of the Romish Church to withdraw their children from the public schools, affirms that

"This is putting the ecclesiastical screws down pretty strong."

And then naively adds:

"It does seem to be a violation of equity that a large class of the community is compelled to aid in the support of a school system, the advantages of which are denied to them by their religious convictions and the rules and discipline of their church."

Will our neighbor explain, if the "religious convictions" of large numbers of the Catholic communion constrained them to take their children out of the public schools, why it became necessary to put down "the ecclesiastical screws pretty strong" to make them act up to those convictions? To our secular understanding, there seems to be a bad hitch in this logic.

THE TEXTS of the official communications of our Minister to the Madrid government are not yet received at Washington. The Peruvian Minister in this country has been notified that his demonstrations of concern for the Cuban insurgents are indecorous, and must be moderated. The latest advices from Cuba are not favorable to the rebel cause. Jealousies are distracting their councils and paralyzing their action. Several of their leaders have been assassinated, and the American element in their camps has become so obnoxious as to threaten more serious trouble. Our rebel renegade and defaulter, Jordan, has been degraded from the superior command, and Cespedes has personally taken the field, to re-animate a drooping cause. In the meantime, it is a strong point made by the Havana press, that the insurrection lives only by the aid of American sympathy and support. That aid is about to disappear altogether. If the latest report from Cuba be true, that Jordan has offered to sell out to the Spanish authorities, the final collapse of the revolt is near at hand. The report is credible, since we remember how that notorious individual has betrayed every cause which ever yet trusted him.

THE MAST HOPE disaster on the Erie Railway must be fresh in the recollection of all our readers. The essential facts of the case are that a freight train was on a siding, at that point, waiting for the express passenger train from New York to go by. The Engineer of the freight train, without orders from the Conductor, or any other proper person, started the train prematurely, and just in time to reach the main track as the express came thundering along. The result was a fearful collision, attended by loss of life and property. The Engineer was arrested and confined in Milford jail to await his trial. This came off last week, before Judge BARRETT. The facts, as stated above, were clearly proved, insomuch that the Judge felt constrained to charge the jury pointedly against the prisoner, but the jury returned a verdict of "not gutlty," which was received with clamorous applause by a great concourse of citizens in the Court room.

If this result may be taken as a fair indication of public opinion, conductors, engineers and switch-tenders would seem to have license to be as careless or reckless as they will, no matter what damage may in consequence befall people on their journeys.

THE LUNATICS OF WALL STREET.

Beyond the passing inconvenience to the interests of solid trade, in the interruptions resulting from the general excitement, we have no regrets to indulge and no sympathies to express for the victims of this latest frenzy of cupidity. The individual operators who have disregarded the cautions of experience, the plainest instructions of common-sense, and, in most instances, the palpable dictates of commercial honesty, must bear the consequences for themselves. But something is due to the higher interests of society, to prevent, if possible, the recurrence of a condition of things which has for three days convulsed the financial centre of the country.

Considering the instantaneous effect of the announcement that only four millions of Government gold were about to be sold bona fide, and the cash paid for it on delivery, upon the wholly fictitious market of last week, we perceive that the gamblers, who were buying and selling, on paper, in sums of from one to ten millions, and to an amount, in the gross, for a single day's transaction, of over three hundred millions of dollars, were smitten as if by a stroke of lightning. That was the end of their game! It remained only to survey the field and to place the victims out of the public sight. Not even the four millions to be offered were sold; an actual transfer of half that amount has sufficed for the occasion, and the bravado of the gold room has been thoroughly squelched. Here, then, is indicated the practical remedy which should preclude the repetition of the last week's disastrous frenzy. Time transactions in gold should be legally construed as engagements for immediate delivery. This would prick every such bubble as soon as it gathers shape, and that would be the end of the unreal speculations which support the New York gold room.

The Secretary of the Treasury has done simply his duty in the premises. Prevented by law from selling gold without notice, he gave that notice when it became evident that governmental interference could no longer be delayed. No intelligent citizen doubts the propriety of his conduct in declining to interfere in the course of private commercial transactions, until it was rendered imperative by public considerations. Whether it would have been better for the Treasury and for the country, if he could have thrown large amounts on the market without notice, that is not the law. Until Congress shall otherwise order, this notice must be given, as it was last week, and this Administration is, throughout, in the hands of men who obey the law as they find it, and there may be an honest doubt as to the expediency of changing that law, when we see that this notice is of itself potent enough to lay the evil spirit of speculation, as if at the word. The Secretary has wisely and profitably exercised quite as large a discretion as the law may safely put within the reach of any Treasury official. We are not always certain of a BOUTWELL in that place.

Fortunes made, and lost, in an hour, ruined speculators crazed or plunging into suicide, the movements of regular trade paralized, the financial transactions of an entire people temporarily blocked, a fever of excitement ending in a crisis of general disorder and a crash of the whole fabric, overwhelming its builders in a common destruction—this is substantially the story of the last week in the great city of New York. The country survives the shock which destroys its own engineers, and the madness of the hour will be forgotten or remembered only as another proof of the fatal power of that accursed thirst for riches which has studded the world's history with the records of human frailty.

THE Republicans should remember that in some respects the coming election is one of peculiar importance, and every vote should be polled. For instance, in 1871 the Legislature will have devolved upon it the duty of apportioning Pennsylvania both for Congressional and Legislative representation. Both of these apportionments have not fallen on the same year since 1801, and will not fall on the same year again till 1941. This consideration is of great political importance.

LAST YEAR, in Philadelphia, the Republicans had a bloody time in the Democratic wards, although the police and mayor were Republicans. This year neither police nor mayor are Republicans, and Billy McMullen says much blood shall be shed. As this may and probably will keep many timid and law abiding Republicans from the polls, it is necessary that in all other parts of the State the loyal men should turn out strong in order to make up for the difficiency thus caused.

PHILADELPHIA.

Beginning of Activity in Political Circles —The Democrats Whistling up Courage —Republican Meeting at Germantown —A Meeting in Philadelphia on Monday Night.

(Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 25, 1869.

The activity in political circles, which usually characterizes the closing days of the compaign, has fairly commenced. Both parties are industriously at work, vigorously pushing their interests. On the Democratic side the leaders put on the appearance of doing little, and in this manner unquestionably hope to deceive the Republicans into undue negligence in exerting their full efforts. The Democrats are doing little speaking, but documents filled with the usual amount of misrepresentation and abuse are being largely circulated, The Democrats are counting on a reduced vote by which alone they admit they can carry the elections, and they are taking the underhanded method of working secretly to throw the Republicans off their guard. This fact should urge every person interested in the success of Republican principles and institutions, the security of the National credit and the general prosperity of the State, to do their best to bring out the vote of the party on the twelith of October.

The discord in the Democratic ranks in this city, instead of being removed by the reconstruction of their ticket, is still full of rancor, and the dissatisfaction in a large class almost amounts to open rebellion. The Democrats have calculated largely upon carrying this city without any very tangible reasons for such a very necessary result as far as their prospects are concerned. They have been making a great effort to disturb the political equilibrium of the working classes and the Government employes, but so far it has been uphill work. There is no doubt of the carrying of the city on the Republican ticket by from two to four thousand majority. It is very doubtful whether the Democrats will be able to bring out a full vote, on account of the recent disturbance in their camp, and the leaders themselves show evident signs of fear and trembling. Their greatest hopes are based upon a majority here.

In the country districts, except probably the Lehigh region, the vote, according to accounts, will not vary materially from that of 1868, or if it does, the favor seems to be on the side of the Republicans. In the Lehigh valley there is being made an extraordinary effort, for the reason of its being Packer's own vicinity. Here the Democrats expect a decided increase. The campaign has not sufficiently advanced to furnish any just grounds of determining with what result. Up to the present time, however, the work does not seem to go on with any decided assurance of realizing their great expectations. The large interests of Packer in this region will be forced to their full extent in exerting the necessary influence. To suppose that Packer carries that beautiful valley of the Lehigh in his breeches pocket, as some people are dupes enough to believe, is a gross misrepresentation of its people.

The State Republican Committee here are actively engaged in bringing speakers from all parts of the country and are sending them out into the State, reserving also a good share to enlighten the wavering of the city of "Brotherly Love."

Last night a very large and enthusiastic Republican meeting was held in the town hall at Germantown. The place was handsomely decorated and illuminated. The meeting being called to order by W. F. Smith, Thomas W. Walker was chosen President. After the announcement of the Vice Presidents and Secretaries, Mr. A. Wilson Henzey was introduced. The speaker set out with a lively ventilation of the Democratic tricks and the various disguises used to deceive the people. He spoke of the Republican party being the party pledged to the security of the national debt. That the Democratic party had but one remedy, and that was repudiation. He spoke of the calamities that would inevitably ensue from this Democratic doctrine. The industries of the country would be ruined and the public honor abroad would be disgraced in the eyes of the struggling masses of Europe, who look to this country as their only hope of elevation in the human scale and in the enjoyment of liberty for themselves and comfort for their families. He showed that the poor man would suffer more than the rich by such an infamous act as repudiation. He spoke of the war and its fearful sacrifices, brought on by the very party which to day seeks power out of the malicious spirit of overturning what has already been accomplished in bringing the country to its present attitude, which demands respect at home and abroad.

Daniel Kalfbus, of Mauch Chunk, was next presented to the audience. The speaker said he came from the home of Judge Packer. That much had been said of that gentleman's popularity in the Lehigh valley, but he had failed to discover upon what grounds. He spoke of the Republican party as the friend of the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania.

John Covode, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, was next called out, but as the hour was growing late said but a few words and retired amid great cheering.

During the meeting the Republican Invincibles passed by the hall. They numbered between three and four hundred, and with the display of roman candles and torches presented a brilliant spectacle.

On Monday there will be a meeting on Penn Square, in this city, at which many distinguished speakers are expected to be present, among them, Henry Wilson, United States Senetor from Massachusetts.

Kilkenny Among the Gold Gamblers.

Our New York papers have full reports of the exciting scenes among the gold speculators during the latter half of last week. We note briefly as follows:

The constant use of the Gold Telegraph instruments for the past two days has impaired them so greatly that their use at one o'clock had to be suspended for an hour.

The excitement run so high that some of the bears threatened to shoot the leading brokers on the bull side. One of these brokers then stepped forward and dared any one to shoot him. None of the bears accepted the invitation.

On Wednesday $324,524,005 of gold were bought and sold. Thursday's business, it is believed, was much larger than this, and the transactions thus far to-day are undoubtedly larger than during the corresponding time on either of the preceding days. In the Gold Room it was reported that fifteen small firms are known to have failed.

The Tribune says that the corner in gold was manipulated by Wm. S. Woodward, Jay Gould, Jas. Fisk, Jr., Marvin Bros. & Co., Smith, Gould, Martin & Co., and other prominent operators. Smith, Gould & Martin have suffered very heavily, and are reported to have failed, but their names were not officially declared in the Gold Room. Jay Gould and Jas. Fisk have probably lost largely from having bought heavily when gold was about 50, and had not sold out before the price tumbled. About 30 failures are reported, but it is impossible to ascertain what houses have actually fallen.

Said a very young but very heavy operator, "I made $100,000 in a jiffy," but I would like to take ten per cent. of it for my chance of the whole. I don't suppose I will turn out to be all broke." "My profits were over $75,000," said another, as he regaled himself with oysters after the turmoil; "but I have been excited with fears about it the last half hour, and have just found out that my fears are quite certain to be justified."

Again came the Washington rumor, and this time, it was said, direct from the special Treasury agent in this city. It was asserted that Grant had ordered Boutwell to sell the gold, and that he would order him to sell five millions, if necessary. Away went the market in another rush, and never recovered until it touched 133. In the street it went lower. The bulls were ruined men; men were maddened; Speyer grew crazy; his eyes seemed fixed in despair; he spoke to his friends in a husky voice, and rushed about the little fountain as if in terror; at length he raised his hand and shouted hoarsely to the heated, struggling mass below him. This extraordinary spectacle nearly silenced the operators. In a few words Speyer accused some unknown person of an attempt to assassinate him. "He is after me now with a big knife!" shrieked Mr. Speyer. "Look! look!" he continued: "Don't you see the knife?" As it was evident he was crazed he was placed in a carriage by his friends and sent home. Mr, Speyer was not the only one made momentarily crazy; one of the members of the Board informed the Sun reporter that under the undue excitement he felt his mind giving way, and took a Madison avenue stage up Broadway, as far as Canal street, to recover his balance.

Mr. Speyer announced his failure himself, and stated that the gold he had bought to-day was on verbal orders from J. Fisk, Jr., from whom he had neglected to obtain any margins, and he could not take his purchases. At this he was compelled to make a hasty retreat from the Board. The crowd soon after made a rush upon the office of Smith, Gould, Morton & Co., and only the active efforts of the police prevented its being gutted. They seized Fisk and threatened to hang him, but he was rescued with no more damage than a black eye. The crowd continued in the street until a late hour, and the presence of a large police was necessary to preserve order.

It is believed that the suspension of the Fisk and Gould party are mere ruses to gain time, and that nearly all the faltering firms will be prepared to meet their liabilities. This is merely a rumor, and is not credited. If Smith, Gould & Martin, Fisk & Belden, and others of the bull concerns, settled their accounts according to their face, the other side will escape losses which they have had reason to fear.

When the news of the bursting of the gold bubble came up stairs to the Regular Board there was a momentary lull. Then a certain well known leader in the old North Western party sung out, "Now is the time to go in for Central." The Vanderbilt shares received an impetus from that moment, and they rose steadily. The rumor spread that the Commodore had come to the rescue, and his stocks were firmly advancing. In the street and offices a better feeling was noticed at once, and though the gold bubble burst with force, it seemed a relief to the burdened ones. And they were not slow to take advantage of the change. Men who had been lately bearing the stock market and bulling the gold, at once changed about and began to bear on the gold and bull on the stocks. A comple revolution took place within twenty minutes.

If the main movers in the affair, Messrs. Fisk and Gould, come forward and meet their engagements, and thus aid others, everything will move harmoniously in the street to-day. The commission brokers of the street are openly delighted at the panic, for they say the thunder and lightning of the past few days will clear the sky, and drive from the street the irresponsible harpies who have formed "corners" and preyed upon the public generally. The moral presented by the sickening spectacle is that it may take merchants and other business men from the street, and they will learn that even sharp players can be beat at a game where loaded dice are used. There was no reason for the rout and tumult of the last few days. The whole story in a nutshell is: A combination of powerful men boldly struck out for an object which they nearly attained, and everything that stood in the way was compelled to go down before them. Business was made to stand still, the poor to suffer, the nervous to experience alarms, while "bulls" and "bears held high carnival.

STATE POLITICS.

HON. JOHN ALLISON is to address a mass meeting at New Wilmington, Lawrence county, on the 5th of October.

OHIOANS and Pennsylvanians who are clerks in any of the departments at Washington will be allowed to come home to vote.

COMMISSIONER DELANO and Hon. Jno. Allison were to have spoken at Chester on Wednesday, but were unavoidably absent and Gov. Pollock and Mr. Vandershire took their places.

THE Democrats of Lawrence county have nominated Mr. Wm. H. Reynold and Capt. H. W. Squires for Assembly, and appointed Capt. Wm. McClelland to be chairman of the County Committee.

THE new ticket of the Philadelphia Democracy gives great dissatisfaction to the friends of the original candidates, so that the breach of the party, instead of being healed, is actually widened by the new movements.

GEN. HARRISON ALLEN, of Warren county, the Republican candidate for Senator from the district composed of Warren, Mercer and Venango counties, is expected to make several speeches in Erie county this campaign.

A REPUBLICAN meeting is to take place on Saturday, October 9th, at Farmington, up in the Fayette county mountains. Hon. Andrew Stewart, Messrs. J. B. Miller and G. W. K. Minor, Col. John Collins and Major P. A. Johns are to do the speaking.

THE tolls on the Lehigh Valley Railroad (Asa Packer's) have been largely increased since his nomination for Governor. This will certainly make up for a good deal of the money he is expending to secure his election, but the people will find their coal somewhat higher.

THE Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee has appointed the editor of the Erie Observer a District Superintendent, and placed twelve counties in the north-west under his supervision. The creation of such officers shows how thoroughly the Democracy are organizing.

AT THE Republican nominating convention of Montgomery county the following resolution was passed: "To Hon. Charles H. Stinson we extend our thanks for his conduct as State Senator, from this district, believing that he has in all matters acted for the good of his constituents."

WHILE Governor Geary was refusing to be the instrument of the slave-drivers and border-ruffians in Kansas, and was nobly standing up there for freedom, Mr. Packer was in Congress humbly and servilely following the lead of Toombs, Wigfall, and other fire-eaters, in their plans to hand over all our free territory to the slavery interests.

The "Old Fogies" of Councils.

MESSRS. EDITORS: The Commercial is never happy save when it is abusive; is never satisfied unless it is inconsistent. In Friday's issue I noticed a violent attack on certain members of the city councils who refused to vote money out of the city treasury to wine and dine the several hundred California pioneers who came this way on a pleasure excursion. The editor chose to style all such who put themselves on record against the needless expenditure of several thousand dollars as "old fogies," lacking public spirit, and intimates that better material should fill their places! What consistency for the journal of retrenchment and reform to exhibit! Guillotine those men who refuse to make contribution out of the city treasury for a grand "municipal drunk," as such occasions are sometimes termed. I think nine men out of every ten will stand by the so called "old fogies" in all their votes which have in view public economy in the administration of the city affairs. I admit that it was unfortunate that the subject of extending the hospitality of the city to the "Pioneers" should have been brought into Council and then killed; but it is much better that the city should occupy the embarrassing position entailed than that our debt should be materially increased to no good purpose. I think I reflect the opinions of nine-tenths of the tax-payers of the city in saying that the "old fogies" are not to be derided or decapitated because, forsooth, they refused to cast a vote for a needless and unprofitable expenditure of the moneys for which they as custodians are responsible to their constituents. Let us have a little more "old fogyism," if men with economical ideas can be classed in the category.

JUDGE.

THOU BRINGEST ME LIFE—LUNG-WORT.

One of the truest and most suggestive ideas can be obtained from the caption at the head of this article; for of all diseases which impair human health and shorten human life, none are more prevalent than those which affect the lungs and pulmonary tissues. Whether we regard lung diseases in the light of a merely slight cough, which is but the fore-runner of a more serious malady, or as a deep lesion corroding and dissolving the pulmonary structure, it is always pregnant with evil and foreboding of disaster. In no class of maladies should the physician or the friends and family of the patient be more seriously forewarned than in those of the lungs, for it is in them that early and efficient treatment is most desirable, and it is then that danger can be warded off and a cure effected. In DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE you have a medicine of the greatest value in all these conditions. An alterative, a tonic, a nutrient and resolvent, succoring nature and sustaining the recuperative powers of the system, Its beautiful workings, in harmony with the regular functions, can be readily observed by the use of one or two bottles: it will soon break up the chain of morbid sympathies that disturb the harmonious workings of the animal economy. The harrassing cough, the painful respiration, the sputum streaked with blood, will soon give place to the normal and proper workings of health and vigor.

An aggregated experience of over thirty years has enabled Dr. Keyser, in the compounding of his LUNG CURE, to give new hope to the consumptive invalid and at the same time speedy relief in those now prevalent, catarrhal and throat affections, so distressing in their effects and so almost certainly fatal in their tendencies, unless cured by some appropriate remedy. DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is so thorough and efficient, that any one who has ever used it, will never be without it in the house. It will often cure when everything else fails, and in simple cases will cure oftentimes in a few days.

The attention of patients, as well as medical men, is respectfully invited to this new and valuable addition to the pharmacy of the country.

DR. KEYSER may be consulted every day until 1 o'clock P. M. at his Great Medicine Store, 167 Liberty street, and from 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 at night.

KEEP THE BODY IN GOOD REPAIR.

It is much easier to keep the system in good condition than to restore it to that condition when shattered by disease. The "House of Life," like other houses, should be promptly propped up and sustained whenever it shows signs of giving way. The first symptom of physical debility should be taken as a hint that a stimulant is required. The next question is, "what shall the stimulant be?"

A wholesome vegetable tonic, the stimulating properties of which are modified by the juices and extracts of anti-febrile and laxative roots and herbs—something which will regulate, soothe and purify, as well as invigorate—is the medicine required by the debilitated. There are many preparations which are claimed to be of this description, but HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the great vegetable preventive and restorative that has won its way to the confidence of the public and medical profession by a quarter of a century of unvarying success, stands pre-eminent among them all. To expatiate on its popularity would be to repeat a twice told tale. It is only necessary to consult the records of the United States Revenue Department to learn that its consumption is greater than that of any other proprietary remedy of either native or foreign origin

As a means of sustaining the health and strength under a fiery temperature, the BITTERS have a paramount claim to consideration. It has the effect of fortifying and bracing the nervous and muscular systems against the ordinary consequences of sudden and violent changes of temperature, and is therefore peculiarly useful at this season when hot sunshine by day and ice-cold dews by night, alternately heat and chill the blood of those who are exposed to them.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are sold in bottles only. To avoid being deceived by counterfeits, see that the name of the article is on the label, and embossed on the glass of the bottles, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, September, 25.

Great crowds of people were attracted this morning to the scene of yesterday's great conflict. Hundreds of strangers view the locality with intense curiosity. The brokers themselves are sore and weary with excitement and exhaustive labors. At the opening of the Board this morning the room was crowded. The following resolution was offered and adopted amid intense excitement:

Resolved, That the transactions of today will not be recognized; and further that a committee of three be appointed to solicit Mr. Butterfield, the Assistant Treasurer, to postpone the sale of gold until some further day.

Consequently there is no session today. The street quotations are from thirty to thirty-three, but no reliance can be placed on them. The brokers who participated in yesterday's transactions cannot tell thier own standing until the Clearing House deliveries are made, which will not be until Monday.

The Clearing House holds fifteen million dollars in gold and about eighty millions in currency. The business of the institution is three days behindhand so that it will be impossible to give any correct estimate of the extent of the losses sustained yesterday.

The boards in Philadelphia and Boston are open, but their transactions are chiefly local. The merchants, who must have gold to pay custom house duties, are being charged 133 to 135. The brokers are paying 130 for cash gold.

Smith, Gould & Martin, who were yesterday reported as "busted," say they are sound, and only awaiting Clearing House deliveries to meet all their obligations. Several others say that all will be well in the end, but whether this be true, or only for the purpose of allaying the fears of creditors, is a question.

Regardless of the wishes of the gold brokers the Government has determined to sell gold and purchase bonds to-day. Assistant Treasurer Butterfield is now engaged in making sales and purchases. The prices paid for bonds do not vary from the quotations of the past few days. Gold is bringing 133.

Albert Spyers, the gold broker, has been sent to an insane asylum.

Goldman Mahler, a heavy loser, shot himself through the head, to-day, and died in a few hours.

SECOND DISPATCH.

The day closed quietly in Wall and Broad streets, and everything now wears a calmer aspect. The run upon the Tenth National Bank ended about 3:15 P. M., the bank having met all demands upon it. It is presumed the bank on Monday will cease to decline acceptance of its checks. The ability of the bank to satisfy all claims has materially checked the growing panic, and there is a marked recovery of confidence in the several departments of business. It now only remains to see what Monday may bring forth.

From the disclosure of closely kept secrets of the Gold Exchange Bank, the Tenth National held in deposits this morning $1,100,000, and paid out during the day about one million.

Mr. Collinder, bank examiner, inspected the condition of the bank to day and pronounced it satisfactory. Many banks were this evening throwing out checks on the Gold Exchange Bank, and some banks were served with injunctions and legal notifications against paying checks paid into the Gold Exchange Bank yesterday. These checks, however, were certified and came regularly through the Custom House this morning, and of course had to be recognized.

The bids to the Assistant Treasurer for gold to-day, amounted to $9,837,500, ranging from 125 to 134½. The Secretary of the Treasury instructed General Butterfield, by telegraph, to limit the purchase of gold, to-day, to $2,000,000, unless the bids should be over 134; to reject all bids under 132. The total amount sold was $2,000,000 at 132½@134½. The bids for Governments to the Sub-Treasury, to-day, amounted to $7,461,000, at 116 17-100@121¾. The award made was $3,000,000 at 116 17-100@118 8-100.

Cable dispatches report that large amounts of gold have been withdrawn from the Bank of England and the Bank of France, for shipment to New York. The general opinion on the street is that beyond those of Albert Speyer and W. H. Belden, failures will be confined principally to small firms, whose engagements are not large enough to cause serious trouble.

The position of the "bull" operators is not regarded as much in doubt. It is reported on good authority that they effected a settlement before noon yesterday on twenty millions gold at 148 to 150, the profit on which should go far toward offsetting the loss they have made on purchases or failures; but even their fate must remain doubtful until the Gold Exchange Bank has effected its clearings.

At a meeting held this morning, the Post reported it had thrown out about fifteen failures, chidly among small dealers. Wm. Heath & Co. are believed to be entirely sound.

Money is irregular and unsettled this evening, owing to the lock up fund in the Gold Exchange Bank. Call loans were made at 7 per cent. gold, with one commission paid for carrying stocks to Monday ranging from ½ to 1½ per cent.

The bank statement is unfavorable, and reflects the general disarrangement of affairs in Wall street: Loans $263,441,828—decrease, $3,054,196; specie, $13,968,481—decrease, $569,628; circulation, $33,996,081—increase, $23,323; deposits, $180,230,693—decrease, $5,159,337; legal tenders, $50,250,081—decrease, $1,234,116.

Foreign exchange quiet and firm at 8 @8¼.

Gold quite nominal, the room having been closed all day. A few street sales were made at 133@136. The latest reported figures are 133⅛@141@135.

Coupons of 1881, 120@121¼; do. '62, 122 @122¼; do '64, 122¾@122; do. '65, 120¾ @121; do. new 118¾@119; do. '67, 119@ 119¼ do. '68, 118¾@119. 10-40s, 109@ 109⅛; Pacifics, 108@108¼.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

The oil market has been considerably excited, and very feverish during the week which has just closed, in sympathy with the fluctuation in gold and general disruption in financial circles in New York, though compared with last week prices are lower, and the feeling, generally, decidedly "bearish." Heretofore, an advance in gold was almost invariably followed by an advance in oil; but latterly the one has not sympathized with the other, which is attributed to the stagnation in foreign exchange. At one time this week it was rumored that some of the New York oil operators were unable to meet their drafts, and this, as might naturally be expected, together with the stringency in the money market, had a very depressing effect on the market. Yesterday and to-day, however, a little better feeling seemed to prevail, and while the sales were unusually light, yet the feverishness and uncertainty which prevailed during Wednesday and Thursday subsided, to some extent at least.

The shipments of Refinedh ave again been comparatively large this week, and it is probable that they would have been larger still had all the cars been furnished that were called for and desired. From this it is fair to infer that the majority of the refineries have again resumed operations, and the indications at this writing are that the shipments during the remainder of the season will be large, running probably from 2,500 to 3,000 per day, or from 15,000 to 18,000 bbls per week.

The shipments, from Pittsburgh during the week ending September 26, 1868, were 16,900 bbls, and the week preceding, 18,236; the same week crude sold at 12, spot, and October to December sold at the same figure. Refined sold at 31½ @31¾, and October to December at 30. Thus while the former was 2½@2¾ cts. lower than it is now, there is very little difference in refined for September, but the last three months are worth 2@2½ cents more now than then.

Receipts crude this week, 19,502 bbls; last week, 10,996; January 1st to date, 627,440; same time last year, 824,506; Exports refined this week, 16,828; last week, 15,221; January 1st to date, 393,451; same time last year, 494,833. Sales this week, 7,000; last week, 104,000.

CRUDE.

But a single sale reported, 1,000 bbls, seller September, at 14½; it is but proper to remark, however, that holders generally are asking 14¾, though there are no buyers above 14½, and not many even at that. Last three months, that is for lines, may be quoted at 14½@ 14¾; buyers option all 1869, at 14¾@15, and seller, 14@14¼.

REFINED.

But a single sale reported, 1,000 bbls this month, at 32—there were but very few buyers above 31⅞. October was quoted at 32¼@32½, and the last three months at 32¼; buyer all 1869, sold yesterday at 32¼.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, September 25.—As usual on Saturday, the market was less active, but nevertheless the leading dry goods jobbing houses are doing a good business at generally steady prices. Although in fine brown and bleached Cotton goods and Canton Flannels the market is a little depressed, yet the changes to-day are not of sufficient importance to merit special notice.

THE TRAGEDY OF TWO LIVES.

"Sat by the nameless grave and thought that perhaps in its bo om
He was already at rest."

Passing one day through the quietest streets of that quietest of all villages, Economy, I stopped to admire a rose bush which had climbed the rude fence and thrown its treasures of bud and blossom over the rough boards. Seeing an "Economitess" within the enclosure, I began in an ecstatic manner, if in unintelligible German, to express my admiration for her flowers. My raptures and "Deutch" were smilingly received and in a very few moments I found myself in the midst of box hedged beds of good old-fashioned flowers, pansies, sweet peas, mignonette, daisies, larkspur and peonies.

While I chatted and looked at the garden, Leonie (such I found was her name) was making up a bouquet. Were any like it ever seen out of Economy? Pyramidal in form, in design a little stiff; on taking my departure this was presented with the most pressing invitation to make a visit whenever I came to the town.

So commenced a friendship with one of the most interesting, "dearest" old ladies I ever saw. In her youth, Leonie had been a great beauty, nor had age and the odd dress she wore, robbed her of all her charms. Beneath the quaint broad-brimmed hat, the hair waved as luxuriantly, and the eyes looked out as brightly as in the days ere Time had silvered her flaxen tresses.

I often have sat watching her calm peaceful face wondering if none of the life-waves which batter most hearts so unmercifully had reached her; had she never a lover, except her cat and chickens, or a grief outside the slugs which would destroy her precious roses? But one day, as we sat in the honeysuckle covered arbor, with the shadow of the leaves dancing on her soft white hair, she told me her life story. Would that I could impart a tithe of the pathos of her simple German, to my translation.

Many years before, in the Fatherland, she had been left an orphan with but one to love her—Paul, and one bright May morning he departed to seek, for her sake, a home in the "New World." In the autumn she was to follow with a party of her friends. Busily passed away the summer; all her thoughts were of "Lieber Paul" and their future home, till just before she was ready to start, came news from the ship which Paul had sailed in. Stricken down by fever, he had but lived to see the "fairness of the land," then wearily to lay his head upon his pallet and die, with no message for Leonie, for none but strangers were with him—none but strangers saw him laid in the "Potter's Field."

Almost crazed with grief, Leonie still persisted in her journey "to see his grave." Of course even this poor consolation was denied her, and in busy New York no one could speak a word of comfort or hope to the broken-hearted girl. Coming west, she joined the society of which she is now a member. She continued, "I cannot think him dead. Perhaps I shall yet see him in this world, certainly in the next. Touched by her sad story, and feeling that I had now a clue to another mystery, I asked his name. "Paul Bergman," she answered, and two life-riddles were solved.

Years and years ago a broken-hearted, half-invalid German had come to my grandfather, begging for work, telling a pitiful story of a lost sweet-heart for whom he had searched for years only knowing she had left home for America on hearing a rumor of his death. At that time he lay sick of a fever contracted on ship-board; he recovered to find he had lost all, sweetheart, health and money.

Gradually the "Baron," as they dubbed him, became a fixture in the household, wonderfully ingenious, always gentle, yet with an ever abiding sadness, the sickness of "hope deferred," till, not long before, he had died, and been laid in our own corner of the "city of the dead." His name was "Paul Bergman." For so many years, had these faithful lovers been "so near and yet so far."

All this I told Leonie, she shed no tears, nor gave external sign of grief, she simply said "t'was my Paul, it is well, I wait but little longer. Soon the All-Father shall bring us together; then nothing shall part us."

The All-Father did take her, and when the blossoms came again, Leonie slept in "the Orchard" where the low green mounds tell, more eloquently than carved inscription, the glory of the people whose glory is in the past.

AUTUMN FASHIONS.

STREET SUITS.

The new suits for fall wear consist of Scotch plaid, English serge, or their American imitations, water-proof, tweed, plush, and silk, or velvet and silk, and several decided novelties, in plain and ribbed cloth. Silk is very much used for trimming upon all sorts of materials, even upon velvet, and the richest black silk suits are trimmed with the same, with the addition of lace.

Most of them are now made with an upper skirt, which forms a round, full pannier at the back and wings at the side, and they are completed by either a waist with long coat sleeves, or a basque which forms a sort of small, jaunty coat with lappels, which spreads jauntily over the puffed-out skirt.

The Scotch plaids are very neatly trimmed with black silk quilted into bias ruches feathered out upon the edge; and some very handsome changeable poplins, green and black, and maroon and black, were effectively finished with facings of black gros grain heavy corded silk, edged with a narrow double pleating of the same. With these suits must be worn complete sets of Astrakhan, gray brown or black; or upon cool days, before snow comes, a checked or striped scarf arranged as an "Arab." They can be bought, with fringe and tassels complete, for from ten to fifteen dollars.

CORSAGE.

The latest style of corsage for very "full" dress is cut round and very low, and has a fluted frill of lace, placed standing on the inside edge, so as to form an old fashioned ruff. It is a fashion that will be adopted for its novelty and eccentricity by a few fashionable women, but will never become general again.

The low square corsage is the full dress style for young women. All bodies are cut short, high on the shoulder and wide in the bust. Instead of straight round waists, many of them are cut with a slight spring, over which the skirt is fastened, the waist being sufficiently defined by the belt and sash.

Sashes cannot be too full. The ends are short and very wide, the bows made square, with double loops below. The ends are vandyked, fringed or trimmed with lace or ruffles.

SKIRTS.

The immensely long trains are no longer worn. The longest are not more than a yard and a half long, and a demi-train a yard long is quite sufficient. A very convenient and stylish method of making rich dresses which are required to serve a double purpose is to make the under skirt walking length, and the upper skirt long, so that it can be looped up to form a very full pannier, or let them down as a train for the drawing room. A good deal of silk or other material is required for a costume of this description, particularly as it ismainly used for trimming; but then it forms two complete dresses.

The "shot" or changeable silks are so exquisite in tint as to constitute the æsthetic element in material. The fine shades blend into a hue so delicate, yet so perfect that there is no name for it, and only lace or a lovely fringe made of the two colors can add an attraction to it.

There is change in the arrangement of ordinary skirts. They are still gored perfectly plain in front, partially gored and laid in flat pleats on the sides, and bunched in large gathers at the back.

SLEEVES.

These are strictly coat-shaped, small at wrist and rounded up high on the shoulders, the broad mousquetaire cuff is often added to the wrist or simulated by a trimming of silk or velvet.

More dressy sleeves are puffed—some to the elbow, some to the wrist—the puffs high and not unfrequently ornamented with vandykes, the points turned up instead of down.

It is the fashion now to ruffle sleeves at the elbow, as well as at the top, and the wrist, but we do not consider it a graceful or becoming method, for it gives a sharp outline to the bend of the arm, and makes the upper part of the arm, which is rarely as full as it ought to be, look thinner still by comparison.

The full dress sleeves worn with very low necked dresses are mere straps with a little quilling of the material or ruffle of lace added; but those ladies who object to this exposure and still want something more dressy than the long coat or puffed sleeve, adopt the "antique," with ruffles of lace or of material plain or vandyked. Flowing sleeves, "angel" sleeves and the like have disappeared entirely. Not a few of the large old fashioned flowing sleeves have been put together to make panniers of.

BREAKFAST JACKETS.

Charming little sailor jackets have made their appearance for cool, morning wear, in marine blue cloth, trimmed with narrow folds of black satin and gilt braid. Some are ornamented with embroidery executed with gilt braid interwoven with black silk, and being more elaborate, are, of course, more expensive.

The sailor jackets proper are short on the back so as to show a full silk sash, have coat sleeves and a square collar straight and narrow across the back, but forming deep points upon the shoulders. This last, of course, is the distinguishing feature. There are other jackets made of scarlet cashmere, or merino, which form a sort of loose basque, the skirt part cut out in short, square lappels, and the waist confined by a belt to which the usual ornamental bow is attached. The sailor collar is simulated on these by the trimmings, which consist of round black cords or silk pipings, stitched upon a white edge.

COLLARS AND CUFFS.

The fashionably worn linen collars, particularly abroad, are straight across the back, with a narrow Valenciennes lace, which stands up above the edge of the outside garment and is continued round the moderately deep points which constitute the collar in front. These points are always folded over a cravat, and in Paris the collar is not sold without its little silk cravat. The cuffs are rounded in a trifle and edged on the top with a narrow Valenciennes lace.

The broad fluted frills which have obtained a common sort of vogue recently, are not only very bad style, but have no foundation in fashion.

Linen is less worn than formerly. Sets are now made of an application of fine needle work to linen cambric, edged with pretty, real Valenciennes.

Instead of buying real lace collars, which are very expensive, and look miserable after one or two washings, many ladies make much neater ones by taking a strip of beading insertion, and edging it on one or both sides with real Cluny thread or Valenciennes lace. Through the insertion a narrow velvet is run, which looks like a beading, hence the name of beading insertion.

An average of fifty cents each will make very pretty little collars in this way, of real lace, which is so much nicer to wear than an imitation in cotton, be it ever so perfect.

A Jolly Double Header.

All the stories told of the Siamese Twins hardly equal this of the famous Scotch double man, of whom the following curious account is given in the Rerum Scotiarum Hishtoria: "During the reign of James the Third, of Scotland, and at his court, their lived a man, double above the waist, single below that region. The King caused him to be carefully brought up. He rapidly acquired a knowledge of music. The two heads learned several languages; they debated together, and the two upper halves occasionly fought. They lived, generally however, in the greatest harmony. When the lower part of the body was tickled, the two individuals felt it together; but when, on the other hand, one of the upper individuals was touched, he alone felt the effect. This monstrous being died at the age of 28 years. One of the bodies died several days before the other."

On Tuesday night of last week, George Warren, colored, residing at Bridgeport, near Brownsville, was knocked down and robbed. He was confronted by a man who asked him for a "chew" of tobacco, and while searching his pockets for his "plug," a second man crept up behind and struck him a blow which caused him to fall senseless, in which condition he was dragged into a livery stable and $9,50 taken from his person.

Maternal photographs are a Paris notion, and fashionable establishments keep a well ordered and nice looking baby on hand for general use.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, or conrse the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleurra adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of fo d. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

LEATHER AND GU

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Gov. Geary expected to spend yesterday in this city, but was prevailed upon to go from Freeport, where he spoke Saturday afternoon, to Blairsville, and attended a meeting there in the evening.

Regular Meeting.—A regular monthly meeting of Councils will be held this afternoon at two o'clock.

Gildenfenny, No. 45 Fifth avenue, sends us Harper's Monthly for October. All the late magazines will be found on his counter.

Committed for Trial.—John Grogan and James Gilman, charged on oath of Robert Hague with highway robbery, had a hearing before the Mayor ou Saturday, and in default of bail for their appearance at Court were committed to jail.

Home Again.—Messrs. E. A. Montooth, R. A. Johnson, C. Yeager and Edward House arrived home from Europe, in this city on Friday. Their many friends wil be pleased to learn of their safe return after a pleasant and extended tour.

Found.—Officer Dressler found a roll of harness leather on the bank of the Monongahela river, behind a pile of pig metal, where it had probably been placed by the thief who stole it. It is now at the Mayor's office, and the owner can have it by calling and proving property.

Unofficial Interference.—On Saturday Thomas Meredith found a home in the county jail through the instrumentality of Justice Abraham, of Elizabeth, who committed him for trial for interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty. Information was made by Peter Harney.

Grand Entertainment.—An entertainment of unusual interest will be given at the Allegheny Rink, Thursday and Friday evenings next. A Stereoscopticon Panorama of "Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress" and music by one thousand Sunday school scholars. See advertisement in another column.

Mania a Potu.—A young man was found in the Diamond at a late hour Saturday night apparently crazy and was taken to the lock-up, when it was discovered that he had mania a potu. This is the third time he has "seen snakes" within the past four months. He will probably be sent to the work house.

Found Drowned.—The body of John Gamon was found in the Monongahela river at Brown's Landing, Saturday morning. Justice Ammon held an inquest, when the jury returned a verdict of "found drowned." Deceased was a Welshman, aged thirty years, and leaves a widow. He resided in the Fourteenth ward.

Rolling Mill Row.—Thomas, Patrick and Jessie Boyle and John and Bridget Arthurs were before Alderman McMasters on Saturday, on informations for assault and battery and surety of the peace. Philip Kelley was the prosecutor, and the parties had a row about some trivial matter. They reside in Ormsby Borough, and defendants were held for a hearing.

Mayor's Court—Owing to the inclemency of the weather Saturday night the Mayor's morning court yesterday was not as throng as usual. There were but twenty-five cases, eight for disorderly conduct, seventeen for drunkenness and one for vagrancy. The following disposition was made of them: fifteen paid fines, nine of them were committed to jail and one was discharged.

Arm Broken.—Mr. James Cornoary, of Birmingham, met with a singular and rather serious accident Saturday evening. He is a member of the Pittsburgh Gymnastic Association, and was at the gynasium Saturday evening. While "doing" the "giants swing" both bones of his left fore arm were broken and protruded through the flesh. Dr. Murdock was summoned and reduced the fracture, after which the injured man was removed to his residence.

Lecture.—Miss Sarah P. Kidder, Teacher in the Soldiers' Orphan School, Titusville, Pa., will deliver a lecture in the Second United Presbyterian Church, Sixth avenue (Rev. T. H. Hanna, Pastor) on Monday evening, September 27th, at 7½ o'clock. Subject—"The Soldiers' Orphans." Admission free. The object is a noble one, and Miss Kidder brings the highest testimonials from leading men of this State. Her lecture has been pronounced by all who have heard it to be clear, forcible and touching in its narration of facts, and incidents in connection with the Soldiers' Orphans. Every one should hear it.

Personal.—We had the pleasure of meeting with our friend Mr. Edward House, member of Council from the Second Ward, who arrived in the city on Saturday after an extended tour throughout the old Continent. His many friends will be pleased to hear that he is in the enjoyment of most excellent health; and that his trip was pleasant and agreeable. We are glad to welcome him home.

Among the passengers of the "City of Boston," at New York on Thursday, were our fellow citizens, Mr. C. Yeager and Mr. Thomas Palmer, who have been spending several months in foreign travel. Their friends will rejoice at their safe return. We understand there were other Pittsburghers passengers on the same ship, but we have not heard which of our absentees to name.

Committed for Thirty Days.

James Broderick was arrested by officers Kerr and Kelley on Saturday night, while engaged in a row at the corner of Webster and Washington streets. A number of "roughs" followed the officers, and while on the way to the lock-up officer Kerr was tripped and thrown down by one of them. In attempting to save himself from the fall he struck his thumb on the sidewalk and tore the nail off it. While in the Captain's office, Broderick struck officer Kelley, who returned the blow with interest compounded. Yesterday morning Broderick was fined twenty five dollars, and in default of payment was committed for thirty days.

Fatal Accident.

An accident, resulting in the death of a Mrs. Wilgus, wife of Lorenzo Wilgus of Fayette county, occurred at Layton Station on the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad, Saturday. It appears that Mrs. Wilgus was visiting the family of her father-in-law, Joseph Wilgus, who resides at the above named place, and went out with some of her friends to look at a threshing machine which was in operation on the farm. While passing near the tumbling shaft her clothing was caught and wound round the shaft, which was going at the rate of two or three hundred revolutions per minute. Before the machine could be stopped the unfortunate woman was whirled round a number of times, and when released life was found to be extinct.

Republican Meeting at Bellevue.

One of the most enthusiastic meetings of the campaign was held in this staunch Republican borough on Friday evening last. Every Republican voter of the borough was present, and the strong array of ladies in attendance gave evidence of the sympathy of womankind with the success of Republicanism. Even the Democrats, of whom, however, there are but three in the borough, were there. The fine public hall of the borough was crowded to its utmost capacity. The meeting was organized by the election of the following officers: President, R. Straw Esq; Vice Presidents, H. Forrester, R. B. McGraw, Jas. P. Fleming and E. Gleason, Esqrs.; Secretaries, John Gregg and M. Hunnings, Esqrs.

The enthusiasm of the meeting gave life to the speakers who must have been cheered by the hearty accord of their audience with the most advanced doctrines of Republicanism. Captain H. A. Collier, delivered the first speech and was followed by W. S. McGraw, Esq. and Colonel T. M. Bayne, each and all of whom made terse and telling addresses. The Bellevue Philharmonic Society, composed of ladies and gentlemen of the borough, under the leadership of Prof. David Miller, by their excellent music contributed greatly to the success of the meeting, singing "Hail Columbia" "Star Spangled Banner" and other patriotic songs with great spirit.

Bellevue expects to poll a unanimous vote for Geary and Williams on the second Tuesday of October next.

Patterson, from the first precinct, and Messrs. P. Watters, R. C. Miller and L. Walter, from the second precinct, were appointed a Committee to examine the reports of Block Committees, for the purpose of correcting any discrepancies which might exist between their lists and the registry.

Sixth Ward Geary Club.

This flourishing organization, though but recently formed, is doing a good work in infusing life and spirit into the campaign in our vicinity, and Captain Huston and his efficient Lieutenants, Robert Fowler and John Jones, cannot but feel gratified at the record made by the Club thus far in the fight. It would be an excellent idea if all the county would band together in this manner and aid the cause. The supporters of the Club, numbering some of the best citizens in the ward, deserve the highest praise for their zeal and generosity.

The Fifth Ward Democracy in a Muddle—Two Tickets in the Field.

In that usually quiet (?) and peaceful precinct of the city, known in years past as the "bloody Third" ward, but now Fifth in numerical order, there is trouble among the unwashed, unterrified, incorruptible Democracy, with a prospect of a lively row in the settlement thereof. Pursuant to a "regular" call, it is claimed, a meeting was held at "Duffy's battery," and the following ticket regularly nominated.

Select Council—John C. McCarthy.
Common Council—Patrick Bradley, Thomas Pender, M. J. Magann.
School Directors—C. B. Strain, Owens Corcoran.
Inspector—M. Rosenbaum.
Return Inspector—Thos. McIntire.
Constable—C. P. Bradford.

The unsatisfied, counted out, or, as they claim, swindled aspirants, loudly denounced the "ring," determined to "bust it," and arranged for a meeting at "O'Neill's Exchange" for Saturday evening to place in nomination a ticket in accordance with their wishes. On that evening, "Neill's" was thronged, and soon after the organization of the meeting a slight distubance seemed likely to culminate in a row characteristic of the Democracy on like occasions in that locality, but fortunately nothing serious occurred. Mr. Billy Rafferty occupied the chair, and at the outstart a short-haired gentleman in the crowd inquired "What right have you to talk here; (addressing the chair,) you don't belong to the ward." Another said "Take him down; he belongs to the Seventh ward." Without taking any notice of the interruption, except to say in the blandest manner, "That's a serious charge," the chairman continued to discharge the duties of the position, and amidst considerable confusion, not to say absolute disorder, the poll proceeded. The result was announced as follows:

Select Council—Daniel McMeal, 2 years, James Herdman, 1 year.
Common Council—Wm. Henderson, Jas G. Weldon, John Kelly.
School Directors—Charles B. Strain, John McGee.
Constable—John Barry.
Judge of Elections—James Braddock.
Inspector—Patrick White.
Return Inspector—John Eagan.
Return Judge—Thomas O'Neal.

We look for a lively time in the "bloody Third," in consequence of this demoralizing condition of affairs, unless there shall be a compromise, which under existing circumstances is not at all probable.

Meeting in Allegheny.—A large Republican meeting was held at Gerst's Hotel, in the Third ward, Allegheny, Saturday evening. The meeting was organized by calling D. L. Smith to the chair, and the election of a number of Vice Presidents. Mr. Smith, on taking the chair, addressed the meeting briefly, after which Maj. A. M. Brown was introduced, and delivered an able address. Col. T. M. Bayne was next called for, and entertained the meeting with one of his most forcible speeches.

Temperance and Reform Meeting.—A large meeting of the friends of Temperance and Reform was held at Port Perry on Friday evening, September 24th. Capt. B. L. Wood was called to preside, assisted by Geo. T. Miller, Wm. A. Shaw, Dr. Maginnil, Richie Harrison, P. McCloskey, Vice-Presidents, and Luke B. Davidson, as Secretary. The meeting was addressed by Dr. J. D. Herr, of Pittsburgh, and Rev. P. Crombe, of Philadelphia. Music by the Silver Cornet Band.

Improvements in Allegheny.

It will be remembered that several frame buildings were destroyed by fire in January last at the corner of the Diamond and Federal streets, Allegheny. The debris of the fire was quickly removed and a noble four story brick block already covers the site of the fire. This block fronts sixty feet on Federal street, and about one hundred and seventy-six feet on the Diamond, the lower story on Federal street composing three fine store-rooms, each twenty by eighty feet, these with two stores on the Diamond, each nineteen by sixty feet, are the property of Frazier Brothers, one of the Diamond stores twenty by sixty belongs to S. S. Shields and the two remaining stores on the Diamond belong to Barr & Moser. This latter firm are the architects, and the Messrs. Frazier Brothers the builders of the entire block which presents an imposing appearance, not surpassed by any block in the city. These stores are receiving the finishing touches, and will shortly be occupied. The upper stories of the buildings are reached by spacious stairways fronting on the Diamond. The whole structure is creditable to the owners and contractors and an ornament to the city.

GOVERNOR GEARY.

His Tour in Western Pennsylvania—His Enthusiastic Reception by the People—Progress of the Campaign.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

FREEPORT, Sept. 25, 1869.

The Governor's tour in the western part of the State thus far has been eminently satisfactory. The enthusiastic receptions everywhere accorded him recall the memorable days of last autumn, when the camp fires were burning brightly and willing hearts and hands were engaged in the patriotic work which resulted so grandly for the national welfare. His tour has been as an electric spark, rekindling those fires and infusing courage, confidence and a spirit of hearty, energetic action into the management of the campaign, which happily augurs another triumphant Republican victory.

Coming directly from the east, where the work goes bravely on, the Governor and his suite stopped first at Apollo, Armstrong county, on the line of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad. His arrival had not been unexpected and the reception was alike honorable to the patriotism of the corporation and worthy their distinguished visitor. Of the procession with which he was escorted through town, the gala, holiday appearance of the place, and the excitement of the occasion, together with the proceedings at the public meeting, you have already had full particulars by telegraph.

It may not be uninteresting, however, to note that the meeting was held on the main street at a neat speakers' stand, which had been tastefully trimmed and decorated with evergreen and flowers by the ladies, ever foremost in good works, and which presented a brilliant appearance when illuminated by the radiance from numberless Chinese lanterns. At the conclusion of the meeting the procession re-formed, and the party were escorted to Rogers & Co's rolling mill, which was in full operation at the outskirts of the town. The manufactory was examined and the interesting process of iron making witnessed, when the hands, numbering about one hundred and fifty, were called together and addressed by the Governor in a few appropriate words, which elicited the heartiest evidences of enthusiasm. The light from the forges partially scattering the darkness, the hardy sons of toil gathered in a group, the large concourse of spectators and the bands playing a martial air, formed an inspiriting and electric scene.

The Governor departed next morning, after being serenaded and escorted to the depot by the citizens en masse for

BUTLER.

Where his reception was still more flattering and enthusiastic. It had been announced that he would be present at a meeting in the evening, and all day long the people came pouring into the town, on horse back, in wagons and afoot from every part of the county. The excitement was intense, and all seemed bent on one subject, doing honor to the welcome guest, and the goodly corporation which never does things by half on this occasion fairly out did herself. The Governor as stated in my dispatch, arrived at two o'clock and put up at Jacks Hotel. As soon as his presence became known he, was called upon by the prominent citizens and a number of ladies. After recuperating from the fatigues of travel the party were taken in charge by the Reception Committee, Gen. Purviance, Col. Thompson, Col. McJunkin, W. H. H. Graham, Esq., and escorted through the town and to the grounds where the County Fair was in progress. During the stay here, about an hour, business was entirely stopped and the people crowded around, cheering and manifesting the most hearty enthusiasm.

The grand torchlight procession, which came off in the evening, was grand in every sense of the word, whether in numbers, spirit, or brilliancy. Flags and streamers were fluttering in every quarter, and as the procession moved along through the principal streets, it was greeted with every manifestation of delight by the people.

It halted in front of the court house after the route had been traversed and the participants joined in the meeting, that is the very few of them who could do so, for by this time the interior of the temple of justice was so completely occupied that admittance to another individual was almost an impossibility. The meeting was one which has had no parallel in the annals of Butler, and so utterly astonished the oldest inhabitant, as to cause the old gentleman to make the remark upon which we base our statement. The walls and speakers' platform had been handsomely draped with flags, and the staid appearance of the structure seemed to have given place to one of a more youthful, holiday character, under the influence of the occasion. The character and spirit of the meeting may be judged from the fact that the crowd did not disperse until near midnight. Two speeches only were made; Gov. Geary talking in a practical but impressive manner for nearly two hours, frequently being interrupted with vociferous applause. Hon. Mahlon Chance followed in an hour's speech, one of his most terse and telling efforts, which was received with forcible expressions of approval from the assemblage. The meeting adjourned with rousing cheers for the county and State ticket. Its effect cannot but be of the most favorable character, as the spirit of Republicanism in Butler has been aroused and has commenced the campaign with vigor.

The Democracy, misguided people, attempted to get up an opposition demonstration, and for this purpose had a torchlight procession and afterwards adjourned to Connoquenessing Hall where Ex-Governor Wm Johnson attempted to hold their attention. Sad failure. Ere the plaintive champion of the "lost cause" had arrived at his "forsooly" the number of his hearers, the "unterrified" Democracy, had grown almost imperceptible and his elucidations of the situation were necessarily drawn to a hasty conclusion.

The enthusiasm at the Court House sounded ominously in the ears of the "unterrified," and with sorrowful hearts they

"Folded their tents like Arabs
And silently stole away."

The Governor and his party next morning were occupied in receiving visits from the townspeople until the hour of their departure, when they were taken in charge by the Committee and escorted to their next appointment,

FREEPORT,

Where they arrived this afternoon at two o'clock. Arrangements had been made for a grand mass meeting here, but the weather unfortunately proved unpropitious, and somewhat interfered with the programme. Nevertheless, when it was found that an out door meeting was impossible, the town hall was secured. It was but a few minutes before it was filled, when a meeting was organized with Hon. Darwin Phelps as Chairman and the usual list of other officers. The Chairman made a few stirring remarks and introduced Governor Geary, who, after speaking about an hour, was followed by Mr. Chance. During the progress of the meeting, the Governor received a dispatch from Blairsville, urging his attendance there at a meeting to-night [Saturday]. After consultation, he accepted the earnest invitation and departed in the four o'clock train. This altered the programme and prevented his going to Pittsburgh. Great preparations have been made for the meeting at Blairsville, and from what I can learn that pleasant village will not be behind its sisters in the west who have so enthusiastically received the Chief Executive. Watch Presentation.

On Saturday evening, September 24th, the workingmen employed at the Bigley mines, situated on the P. & C. Railroad, at Alpsville, Pa., six miles above McKeesport, desirous of showing their high regard for Mr. John Blythe, who has been for the past five years Superintendent of Capt. N. J. Bigley's very extensive coal works, and who is about to engage in other business—assembled in the check house to the number of one hundred men. After perfecting arrangements, a Committee consisting of Messrs. McCleery and Kerr was appointed to wait upon Mr. Blythe and solicit his presence. Upon their arrival, Mr. James Jackson announced the object for which they were assembled, and thereupon introduced the oldest hand about the works, Mr. Boone. Mr. Boone, attended by Messrs. Legel and Duncan, employes at the works, stepped forward and spoke as follows: Mr. John Blythe, we the employes of N. J. Bigley's works, the equal of which cannot be found in Western Pennsylvania, works owned and planned by N. J. Bigley, Esq, our worthy employer, and superintended by you with such creditable success to all concerned, have assembled here for the purpose of presenting you with a watch and chain—a token of our high esteem for you as a gentleman and manager.

In offering you this small tribute of our high regard, please receive this acknowledgment that if it were in our power to bestow upon you a larger gift, we would most gladly do so, as we the employes one and all are under many obligations to you for your unvarying kindness. As you are about to depart from us to engage in another business do therefore accept this watch and chain and with it also our warmest thanks.

May peace, happiness and prosperity attend you.

Mr. John Blythe then arose and stated that as he was a man of few words, he would have to be brief. He commenced by saying that he had accepted with great pleasure the precious and generous gift presented him, and remarked that he had been in N. J. Bigley's employ for upwards of eleven years, that he had always endeavored to serve his employer's interest as well as the employes, consistent with duty, and that if he had at any time erred it was the fault of the judgment and not of the head. He hoped that this occasion would remove all difference and that in leaving them he could really take with him their best wishes for his future welfare. He concluded by saying that if the employes of the Bigley Mines would continue to do their duty by their employer, they would find in him a truly good and kind employer. Three cheers were then given with a will for Mr. John Blythe.

The occasion was replete with interest, and the writer of this, an eye witness to the scene, makes this assertion, that if capitalists and managers desire peace on earth they should exercise good will towards their employes, and by so doing what happened at Capt. Bigley's works, would happen with them. Capital and labor should go hand in hand.

County Home.

We accompanied the Grand Jury on their visit of inspection on Friday last to the Allegheny County Home. On a former occasion we described the buildings and grounds. We noticed on the recent, as on the former visit, the perfect order and cleanliness that pervade the whole establishment, the apparent satisfaction and contentment of the numerous inmates, the abundance of simple, wholesome food with which they are served, the excellent discipline and really wonderful proficiency of the school of little ones; the manifest efficiency of all the officers occupied in the immediate oversight of the Home. Mr. McElroy, the Superintendent, and his family, have proved themselves a most fortunate selection; the Directors could not in the county have made a better choice. Miss Jordan, as Matron, is kind, energetic and thorough, her head and her heart are in her arduous daily routine, and Miss Hayes, the Teacher, has proved herself a precious accession to the corps of officers. She is a lady of charming presence, ever sprightly and lively, setting before the children the example of happy and joyous, as well as of refined manners. The children are obedient to her every rule, and yet much endeared to her.

During the past year, under the personal and constant supervision of Mr. Murray, one of their number, the Directors have erected several necessary additional buildings, including granaries, shops, stabling for horses and for cows, pens for hogs, heneries, &c. We think the visiting jurymen could not fail to appreciate, not the necessity only for these improvements, but also the skill and ingenuity of their adaptation and structure.

While the Home building, the ornimental walks, lawn plantings and fountain which embellish it, and also the adjacent and appurtenant outbuildings, are all on a liberal scale, it must be admitted that they all exhibit wise adaptation to the present and future objects for which the expense has been incurred, and entitle the Directors to the grateful acknowledgments of a well served constituency. In matters of this kind it is always the truest wisdow to devise for the future as well as for the present, and the truest economy to provide at once for a reasonable stretch of the future, rather than by a narrow and short-sighted policy and a niggardly and stinted expenditure to supply only a cramped and inadequate support of those whom age, disease or the frowns of fortune have made dependent on their more prosperous fellow-creatures.

An Old Citizen Gone to Rest.

A large concourse of citizens attended the funeral of Mr. Thomas Roberts yesterday, from his late residence in Allegheny city. The deceased was one of our oldest and most esteemed fellow-citizens, and as a member of the firm of Davage & Roberts, dealers in steamboat supplies, was known extensively throughout the Ohio and Mississippi Valley. He had been for more than fifty years actively engaged in business here, and maintained throughout that long period a name conspicuous for fair and honorable dealing, probity and uprightness, winning and retaining the estimation of all with whom he came in contact. His death is deeply regretted in both cities, but his friends confidently hope that he has passed away from this world of sin and sorrow to enjoy the eternal happiness of the one beyond the skies.

OPERA HOUSE.—The engagement of Mrs. Emma Waller at the Opera House, which closed Saturday night, was a very successful one. If, however, that lady should favor us with another visit, she will play to larger and better audiences. This evening Mr. John E. Miss Osborn, the leading lady in Mr. Canning's excellent company, will make her first appearance at that establishment at that time. The entertainment will conclude with "Solon Shingle."

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—In addition to the regular excellent company at the Pittsburgh Theatre Mr. Williams announces for the present week, Edwin Blanchard and his dogs, Carlo and Nero, Mr. Frank Dillon and Mr. W. H. Maflin. The exciting drama entitled "The Cattle Stealers of the Mountains" will be presented this evening in which Mr. Blanchard and his dogs appear.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Owing to their great success during the past week, the Gregory's have consented to remain one week longer, during which time an entire change of programme will be presented. They give the best variety entertainment of any troupe now travelling, as all unite in saying who have witnessed the exhibition.
